

Feral Deer Eradication Program

Expression of interest form

Limestone Coast Landscape Board

Managing feral deer is best achieved involving all land managers in the local area as feral deer can wander across adjoining properties. Implementing a variety of tools is needed to improve the intensity and scale of feral deer eradication across the region. Each operation takes into account local terrain and individual landholder circumstances to ensure high standards of effectiveness are achieved.

The Limestone Coast Landscape Board is seeking expression of interest from landholders in the region to participate in the Feral Deer Eradication Programs offered by the board.

This register of interest (which includes property location details) is held by the board and landholders will be contacted with more information when an operation is planned for their area, and will invite them to participate.

To register your property and be alerted of future Feral Deer Eradication Program operations in your area, please enter your information on the below form. Please note all information kept by the board is confidential.
